Physical Classroom

I think a physical classroom is better because understanding the teacher physically than virtually because physically people's voice doesn't break like virtual school. I also feel online school is quite boring and people don't like only seeing nine people at once and that they want to 20 people at once.

I think that physical school is better than virtual school because we can meet are friends unlike online school. People also feel that online school is boring because it just doesn't feel like school because you get to meet people and have fun activities which you can't have on teams call it just doesn't feel right.

The only things that online school excels in is writing because it is easier on word than physical, but you can even do that in physical school in group projects or solo projects in higher grades so in conclusion I feel that physical school is much BETTER than online school.
